The auspicious morning of August 15, 2013 began with the bugle call of independence. The enthusiasm and zeal on the faces of the students gave a clear indication of their patriotic fervour. The tricolor was unfurled by Dr. Pushpa Satija, the Chief Guest for the day. The whole gathering was filled with the feeling of one nation, one thread, and one bonding.

The programme started with the presentation of NCC Cadets, who displayed their commitment and sincerity in a very disciplined manner. There was a presentation by the students of special wing also, which stirred the emotions of the gathering and gave a clear message that dedication towards the cause of nation, doesn’t require much. Loving your country with passion serves the purpose. Thought-provoking speeches were given by the students of junior and senior wing.
The Chief Guest complimented the students for upholding the values and traditions of India. She motivated the students through many examples set up by the heroic efforts of our leaders.

The programme culminated with the national anthem that sent a wave of patriotism through every heart.
