

WAIT

Wait! Wait! and just wait!

Will this wait end on some date?

Sometimes I think, this wait will never end,

And, I ask myself, will the time wasted by this wait ever mend??

And, sometimes I think it'll end after sometime,

However, this punishes me so much as if I have done a crime.

This wait is for 'something' or for 'someone'

And this wait is special and for a loved one.

I wait in the morning as well as at night,

And I also ask myself, am I really right?

This excruciating wait is really very bad,

This also makes me, very- very sad.

But, see!

Still I love this so called 'never ending wait',

I don't care whether it ends or not on any of the damn date.
